BASILICA OF THE SACRED HEART

Conewago Chapel

RT. 4. HANOVER. PENN'A 17331

The spiritual history of a parish is written in its sacramental records. The Conewago entries, recording the orderly procession through life under the grace of God, remind us of the Faith of a people, transplanted from one country to another but retaining the tradition of a Church truly Catholic, universal.

The project of the John Timon Reily Historical Society is truly praiseworthy. Its devoted members seek to leave for posterity a concise summary of their progenitors' activities.

Father Wappeler built the first Conewago Chapel in 1741. His successors made it a missionary center. From it they sought to preserve and enliven the Faith throughout central Pennsylvania, western Maryland and West Virginia. The baptisms, marriages, and many confirmations and deaths were all recorded at the center of their operation. The earliest records, however, have been lost.

The records at the Basilica of the Sacred Heart of Jesus began in 1791, fifty years after the first log cabin Chapel was erected on a rise overlooking Conewago Creek. Many Jesuits, who were here for one hundred and fifty years, had a part in their making. What a debt we owe to those who helped nourish the Faith of a scattered people!

The earliest records, those in Volumes One and Two, are on paper yellowed by the years, in fading ink, handwritten by some excellent penmen and by some not so gifted. We have some observations to make.

First, we regret that records were unsigned by the celebrants of the sacraments until the 1820s. What a treasure would we have if they were signed!

Again, no place of residence or place of birth or marriage was recorded. Where did the families live? The priests covered all of Central Pennsylvania at least as far west as Latrobe, as well as the adjoining states to the south. We can picture Fathers returning after a missionary trip recording the spiritual duties they performed but--- not saying where!

The spelling of names is a real problem. Were some of our ancestors illiterate, or at least unable to spell their names? Or did the priests just write them, phonetically, the names as they sounded to them? Whatever the cause, there is a wide variety in the spelling of family names. We can translate from the Latin the given names, but we wonder if the many ways of spelling Eckenrode, Felty, Strausbaugh, Hemler, and Klunk indicated separate branches of a family or just carelessness in making entries. When a German wrote an Irish name, or an Irishman wrote a German name, disaster was immanent. Was it a German or Frenchman who spelled Jenkins as "Genquens?"

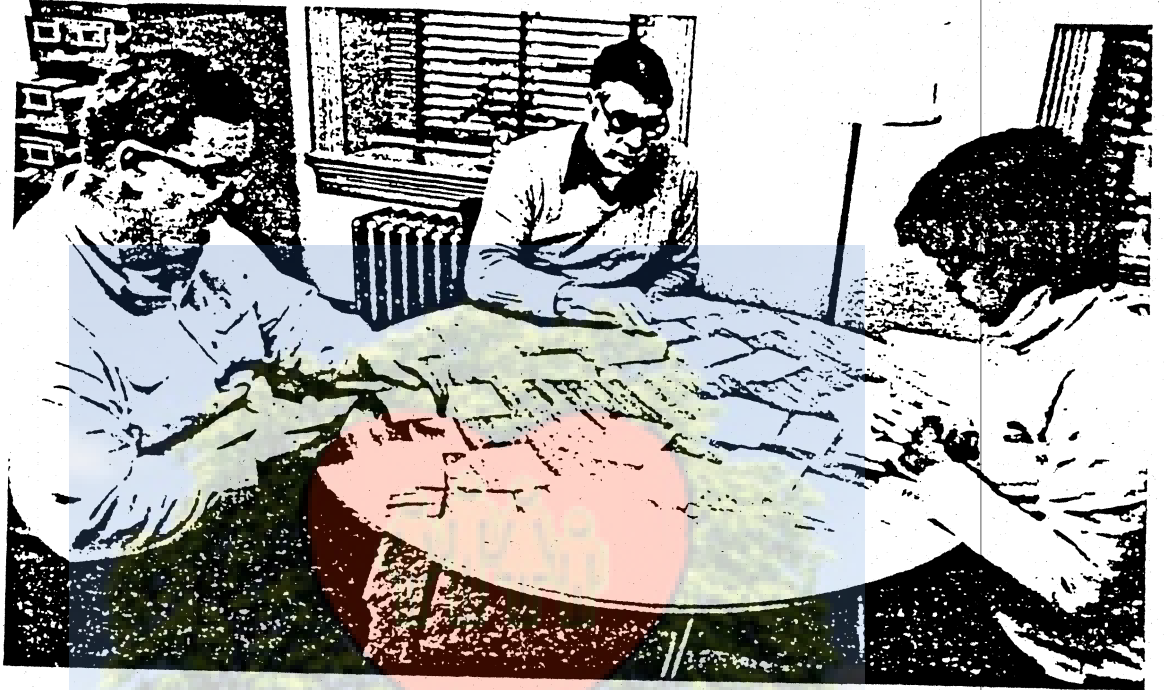

The association of some names now found in various areas, with the records in our books, give us some appreciation of the travels of the Fathers of Conewago.

Our country's history can also be traced, at least within a radius of one hundred fifty miles of Conewago. The German migrations of the 1730s and 1840s left their mark. The stamp of the Irish on the late 1700s and early 1800s is seen in our books.

We trust that the work of the Society will be of assistance to those seeking "roots." May the Society continue to delve deeper into local history, that future generations may know and appreciate their forefathers.

INTRODUCTION

It has long been apparent to historians and genealogists in this area that the old Conewago Registers, referred to by John Timon Reily, were a vital link with the past and that a translation in their entirety was essential.

We were aware that Monsignor Thomas J. McGough, Pastor of Conewago Chapel, had long cherished the hope of translating these records. When we learned that he was well on his way towards this goal, we were elated and forthwith offered the services of the John Timon Reily Historical Society in publishing these most valuable recordings of our heritage.

With the most gracious cooperation of Monsignor McGough, we are presenting the marriage records from the Sacramental Registers of Conewago Chapel for the period 1796 - 1883. If only the very earliest records of this mission, covering the fifty odd years prior to 1796, could be found, what a wonderful and valuable experience we could share. For our ancestors were here in the wilderness of Pennsylvania, and they married, bore children and died, as today, with only the most fragmentary recording of their passing.

We have tried to make this work as complete as possible, combining the translations of Monsignor McGough with the works of Mr. Henry Young and Miss Beryl Frailey MacPherson and the records left by John Timon Reily in his monumental "Collections" series. We have endeavored to establish relationship when such could be done with certainty. In doing this, we have drawn freely on other works of the undersigned, covering many years of genealogical research. In some instances, certain obvious errors were corrected. In almost every case, the name has been presented as it appears in the translation. In some few instances, the modern family spelling is also given in parenthesis following the name as translated. Most of the old family names appear in several variations, and no effort has been made to provide a common spelling. Anyone using these records will readily see the connection and can draw their own conclusions.

In this presentation, the entire marriage record, as translated, can be found under the surname of the male partner. These names have been arranged in alphabetical order to facilitate their use. The names of the female partners will be found in alphabetical order with reference to the male partner for the complete record. The names of the sponsors can be found under a separate alphabetical listing along with a reference to the male partner for the complete marriage record.

The work of Monsignor McGough, Mr. Henry Young, Miss Beryl F. MacPherson and John Timon Reily are acknowledged with grateful appreciation and sincere thanks. Their untiring efforts to record our past must be recognized by all. The task of publishing these records would have been much more difficult without the assistance of Mr. Joseph Hemler and Mrs. Lorraine Robinson and their aid is acknowledged with much gratitude. The assistance of Mr. Calvin Adams in printing and binding this publication is acknowledged with grateful appreciation. The cooperation of Mr. Landon Charles Reisinger, Librarian of the Historical Society of York County, is also acknowledged.

It is our pleasure to present the published marriage records of Old Conewago for your knowledge and understanding of our past heritage. It is our much greater pleasure to have been a part of this program and help to make the dreams and visions of Monsignor McGough and John Timon Reily become a reality.

CELEBRANTS

In order to provide as much information as was available in the Conewago Chapel Marriage Sacramental Records it was necessary to print the name of the celebrant in code.

While we were aware of the inconvenience this procedure would cause, we were also of the belief it would be offset by the value of the additional information.

Listed below is a tabulation of those priests who celebrated the marriage ceremony during the period covered by these records. Listed with each name is a group of initials which were used throughout this work to indicate the specific marriage.

SPONSORS

Conewago Chapel of John T. Reilly
Sketch by Suzie Brey

SPONSORS

This section, which lists in alphabetical order, the sponsors who were present at the marriages listed in Part I, is presented in the belief that the establishment of their presence in the Conewago area at a specific time period will be of some benefit to the genealogist.

In format, the name of each sponsor is listed with a "See" reference to the marriage in which each participated. The marriage record, listed in Part I, contains the complete information available regarding the marriage.

While in many cases there is a relationship between the marriage partners and the sponsors, only in a very few cases is that relationship established. Many times the sponsors were people available at the Chapel when the marriage parties arrived for the ceremony. In others, the sponsors were relatives of the bride and/or groom, but the relationship is not designated.

The benefits to be derived from the knowledge of the existing relationship is evident: but even without this, proof of presence at a precise time and place had merit enough of its own to warrant inclusion of this section on Conewago Chapel Marriage Records.
