INTRODUCTION

In presenting this last and most voluminous set of records from the Baptismal files of Conewago Chapel for the years 1790 to 1890, we feel we have performed a worthy service for the clergy and laity of the Harrisburg Diocese of the Roman Catholic Church. This publication is the most ambitious project attempted by the John T. Reilly Historical Society, since it consists of close to 15000 entries.

Without the help of many people it would have been next to impossible to bring this task to a successful conclusion. With this in mind we wish to recognize the support received from Bishop Daley and the Diocesan Offices of the Harrisburg Diocese; to Msgr. McGough for his invaluable help in translating the records from the Latin as well as his forbearance and cooperation in the indexing of all these records; to Msgr. Rost, the present pastor of Sacred Heart Basilica, to Arthur S. Cunningham and Albert Dudrear for their many hours of research and work put on this project; to Calvin Adams for copying and to all others whose contribution of time and labor made this publication possible.

In using these records please note the parents names as well as the sponsors names are listed where they are available. Also the mothers maiden name is indexed and listed in the second section of this publication. The mothers maiden name has been listed for each child and though many of the records spell the surnames in different ways, we have tried to keep each mother and all her children listed together.

A word of caution, as to the spelling, is necessary since so many opportunities existed, for the many people who worked on these records, to make mistakes. Since some of the changes in spelling both first and last names were intentional, we respect their right and make no changes or corrections. Many of our first generation, born of ethnic groups, tended to anglicize their names. Please check the various possible ways of spelling names before concluding a certain person is not listed.

In the near future an addendum will be printed listing the Baptisms from 1890 to 1900. These extra sheets can be added to this present book because of the loose leaf format.

The spiritual history of a parish is written in its sacramental records. The Conewago entries, recording the orderly procession through life under the grace of God, remind us of the Faith of a people, transplanted from one country to another but retaining the tradition of a Church truly Catholic, universal.

The project of the John Timon Reilly Historical Society is truly praiseworthy. Its devoted members seek to leave for posterity a concise summary of their progenitors' activities.

Father Wappeler built the first Conewago Chapel in 1741. His successors made it a missionary center. From it they sought to preserve and enliven the Faith throughout central Pennsylvania, western Maryland and West Virginia. The baptisms, marriages, and many confirmations and deaths were all recorded at the center of their operation. The earliest records, however, have been lost.

The records at the Basilica of the Sacred Heart of Jesus began in 1791, fifty years after the first log cabin Chapel was erected on a rise overlooking Conewago Creek. Many Jesuits, who were here for one hundred and fifth years, had a part in their making. What a debt we owe to those who helped nourish the Faith of a scattered people!

The earliest records, those in Volumes One and Two, are on paper yellowed by the years, in fading ink, handwritten by some excellent penmen and by some not so gifted. We have some observations to make.

First, we regret that records were unsigned by the celebrants of the sacraments until the 1820s. What a treasure would we have if they were signed!

Again, no place of residence or place of birth or marriage was recorded. Where did the families live? The priests covered all of Central Pennsylvania at least as far west as Latrobe, as well as the adjoining states to the south. We can picture Fathers returning after a missionary trip recording the spiritual duties they performed but--- not saying where!

The spelling of names is a real problem. Were some of our ancestors illiterate, or at least unable to spell their names? Or did the priests just write them, phonetically, the names as they sounded to them? Whatever the cause, there is a wide variety in the spelling of family names. We can translate from the Latin the given names, but we wonder if the many ways of spelling Eckenrode, Felty, Strausbaugh, Hemler, and Klunk indicated separate branches of a family or just carelessness in making entries. When a German wrote an Irish name, or an Irishman wrote a German name, disaster was immanent. Was it a German or Frenchman who spelled Jenkins as "Genquens?"

The association of some names now found in various areas, with the records in our books, give us some appreciation of the travels of the Fathers of Conewago.

Our country's history can also be traced, at least within a radius of one hundred fifty miles of Conewago. The German migrations of the 1730s and 1840s left their mark. The stamp of the Irish on the late 1700s and early 1800s is seen in our books.

We trust that the work of the Society will be of assistance to those seeking "roots." May the Society continue to delve deeper into local history, that future generations may know and appreciate their forefathers.

August 20, 1981

About twenty-five years ago, I began to travel from Harrisburg to Conewago Chapel many times, in order to research the sacramental records for information about my maternal ancestors. Each time that I went to the two oldest volumes, I had to spend much time deciphering as well as translating the records of baptism, marriage, and death, which I wanted. Moreover, I had to spend much time writing these entries on my file papers. I have no idea of how much time all this took, but I do know that it was extensive, and Monsignor John P. Bolen was most gracious each time I came here.

Now, thanks to Monsignor Thomas J. McGough and a host of other very interested people, there is an alphabetical card file in the rectory containing the factual information from the record books for baptisms, marriages, and deaths. Most of this was done when Monsignor McGough was pastor, and even after he left Conewago, he continued his work for the past eight months.

This file cabinet, containing thousands of cards, is a double blessing. As requests from people all over the United States arrive here, it is relatively easy to look up the requested information in very little time. Moreover, as people come here to do their research, they are given access to this file, thus eliminating the necessity of the priest doing the actual research.

The John T. Reilly Historical Society, during the past eight months, has published a book of the marriage records and a book of the death records and burials at Conewago Chapel. It is with even greater happiness that they are publishing this book of the baptisms recorded at Conewago, from the first entry in 1791 up to the year 1900. What a valuable book for the geneologist, whether professional or amateur. No one will ever be able to assess the joy and happiness that people will experience in finding the names of their ancestors recorded in this tremendous work.

A sincere sense of thanks must arise from the users of this book to the many people who had undertaken this vast project for their interest, their time, their work, and their own satisfaction in knowing that this volume will be extremely helpful to many people.

As you search through this book and find what you are looking for, I hope you will say what I have said many, many times, "God bless Monsignor McGough and all his workers."

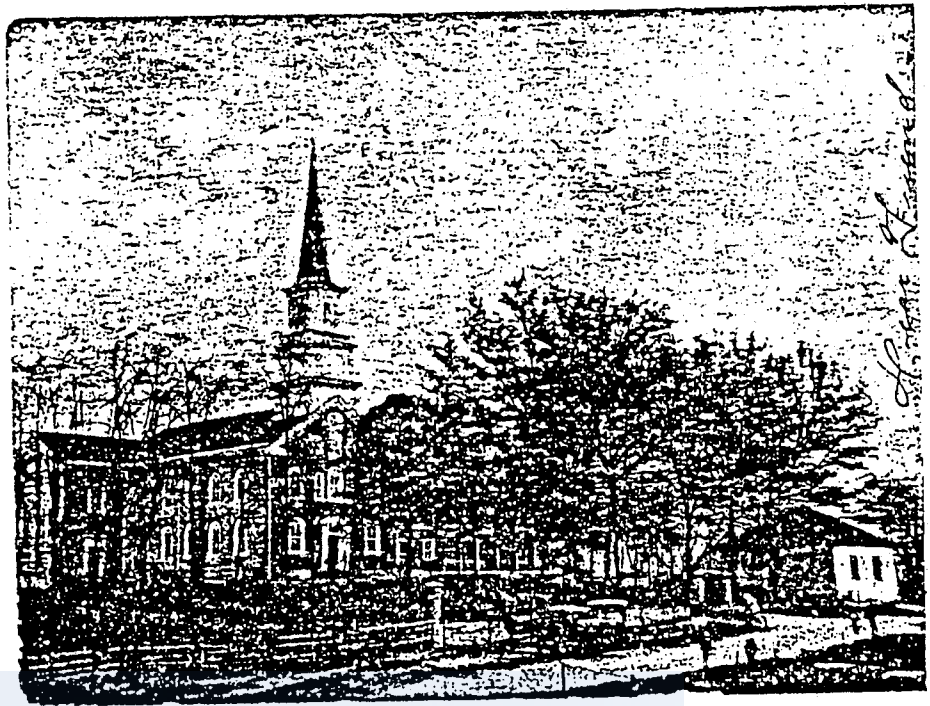

Rev. Msgr. George W. Rost
Pastor

CELEBRANTS

To save space in printing and ultimately to lower the cost of this publication, we have listed all of the clergy, in abbreviated form, of whom there is a record, who performed the Sacrament of Baptism.

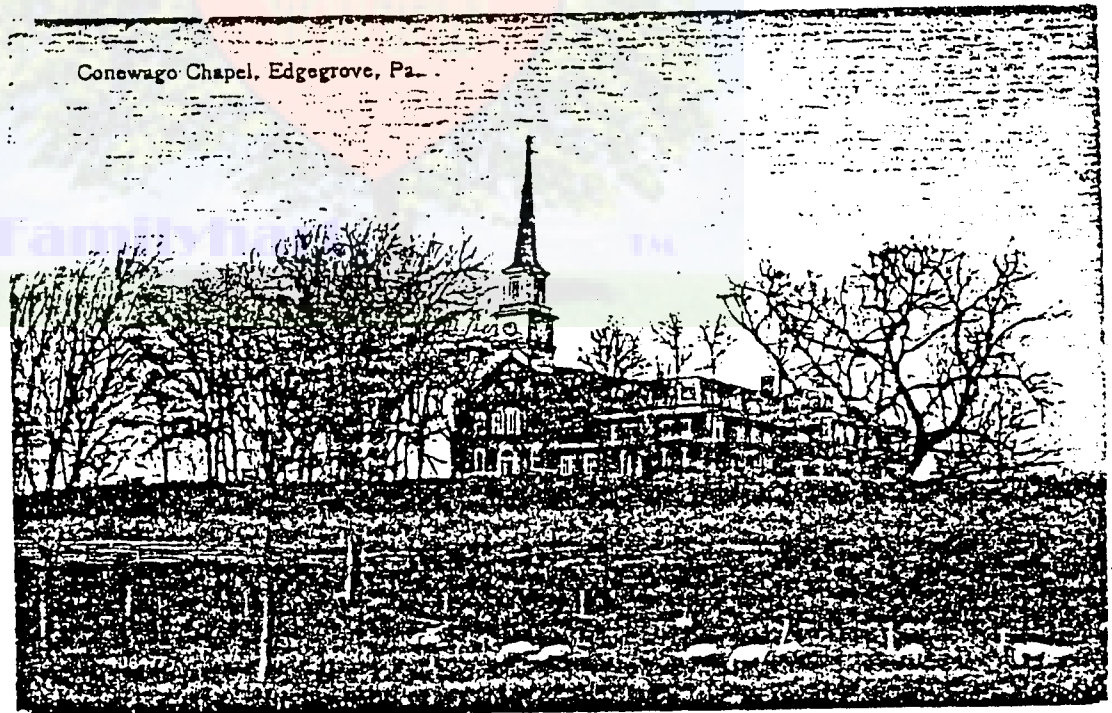

Listed below is an indexed list of the Celebrants who performed the Baptism Rites and the abbreviations for their names as used in this publication.
