

SAINT ALOYSIUS CHURCH 1893.

from "History of Saint Aloysius Church, Littlestown, Pennsylvania", by William McSherry, Jr., A.M.

PREFACE

In compiling this record of the Sacramental Registers of Saint Aloysius Roman Catholic Church, Littlestown, Pennsylvania, we have completed another segment of our self-appointed task to chronicle the genealogy of the Catholics who settled in Pennsylvania's Conewago valley thru the media of their church records.

Beginning with the records of Conewago Chapel, which was established as early as 1741, we have recorded the earliest Catholic Church Records known to exist for the Catholics of this area. In our second work, we moved eastward and recorded the Pastoral Acts which took place at Brandtsburg Chapel. In this, our third work, we have moved west from Conewago Chapel to Saint Aloysius Church to continue our annals of the Conewago Valley Catholics.

This work is not a history of Saint Aloysius, per se, for such a history can be found in the very excellent book, "History of Saint Aloysius Church, Littlestown, Pennsylvania" published in 1893 by William McSherry, Jr., A.M. However, in a very real sense, any record of the births, marriages and deaths of the people of an area is truly a history of those people.

For a record of events which took place before the earliest date recorded in this work, we refer the user to the records compiled for Conewago Chapel.

In recording these acts, the authors had two purposes in mind. First, it was our desire to provide an accurate and readily available reference to assist the Pastor in matters relating to these acts; and secondly, we wished to aid the genealogist who is seeking to establish his roots from the records of this parish. We believe that this work satisfies both of these objectives.

We wish to acknowledge the active assistance of Rev. Father Clarence A. Olszewski, Pastor of Saint Aloysius while this work was in progress. Without his enthusiastic cooperation and collaboration this work could not have been completed.

And to Mrs. Jackie Miller of Littlestown, we owe a debt of gratitude. Giving freely of her energy, her time and her skill, she completed the tremendous task of typing the baptism and marriage records.

We trust that all who have the occasion to use this record will find the work of value and assistance. We would appreciate any additions or corrections which the reader might care to contribute.
